

Call Agenda — Lenny & Mike · Zara Contract

July 22, 2026 · Goal: agree the fixes today, revised paper tomorrow, signed by Friday

The one theme every point rolls up to: "I'll commit to the output — but misses that are the Firm's doing, or fixable, can't stop my pay or my side businesses."

OPEN WARM

The package is 90% there — IP carve-out, side-work approval, and the expanded bonus all landed. I'm ready to sign by Friday once a few mechanics are right.

CLOSE WITH

Get me the revised Exhibit E and these fixes in the paper and I'll sign same day. I've already drafted the Exhibit E language — I'll send it right after this call.

1 · Pay is never conditional

Where it lives: §7(l) makes docs/commits a condition of each paycheck · Exhibit E miss → side-work suspended → "cause" · §13(c)/§14 final-pay holds & offsets

As written, a single short month of posts can cascade into withheld money. The obligations are fine — the payment trigger is not.

Ask: "Output problems get fixed through notice and cure — they never touch a paycheck. Earned base is paid unconditionally; strike the payment condition in 7(l), and an Exhibit E miss gets written notice and 30 days to cure before anything suspends."

2 · Guaranteed scope matches the price

Where it lives: Exhibit E adopts the plan's ceiling (~825 posts, 10–15 hero ads, 99% on-time) as a floor from month 1, minimums raisable by the Firm alone

Guaranteeing full-flood volume at this base underfunds quality on content carrying Mike's name. Guarantee what the investment funds at the highest quality; make the flood a switch they flip.

Ask: "Focused launch at the current fee — 3 priority platforms, ~350–400 posts, 3–4 hero ads, top quality. The full 7-platform flood stays available at $6,500/month once it's live and proven, or folded into renewal. You lose nothing — you just don't pre-buy unproven volume. And minimum changes are mutual, not unilateral."

3 · Approvals at template level, with a clock

Where it lives: §9A(b) — Firm "may require pre-approval of any content," no response deadline; a slow queue becomes my breach

My own plan already solves this: pre-approved templates and claim language per content pillar, so daily content never waits on per-post sign-off.

Ask: "Approval happens up front at the template and claim-language level, per Exhibit F. If the Firm wants to review an individual piece, two business days — and anything sitting in the approval queue doesn't count against my minimums."

4 · Build times & Firm-side dependencies toll the clock

Where it lives: Exhibit E sets my deadlines but none of theirs — account access, credentials, TikTok/X tooling (§5(c)), ad-budget sign-offs (§9A(c)), the Roadmap itself

My commitments can't start before the Firm's deliverables land.

Ask: "Ramp per the plan — month 1 build, month 2 at 50%, full from month 3 — and any commitment waiting on a Firm-side dependency (access, tooling, budget or content approval) tolls until it's provided."

BACK POCKET — ONLY IF RAISED

Money: full program at market is $150K; don't go below $120K without cutting scope; their $70K is fair for the focused launch. · Non-compete: PI firms, Florida, 6 months — not 6 states incl. GA for 12. · Scanner retainer: Exhibit C calls it "completed" — confirm status if it still bills. · Sweep line: "My attorney has a few standard cleanups in the redline" (cure scope 13(b), Covered Parties 1(a), attach Roadmap, baselines locked in writing at kickoff).
